jLaBase Community Site

Table of contents

1. Welcome to the jLaBase Community!

This is the jLaBase Community web site where you can find resources, documentation and some other services. At this moment the only available community is the Wiki site where developers and other members can edit his own web pages. jLaBase has also a developers community working now to resolve the specifications of the framework.

2. Services

The jLaBase community doesn't give any service at all in this moment but we're working on it. The most important service that we want to give is a Multimedia Interative Encyclopedia. Of curse, this will not be possible until the jLaBase Project reaches the stable version.
